Our Greatest Challenge

I have no doubt that our greatest challenge as individuals, and as an organisation is to stay close to God. But I'm also encouraged to say that it is the easiest challenge to overcome! Now that may seem contradictory to some, however history is littered with great challenges that have quite simple solutions.

In Luke 9 we read about the overwhelming need to feed 5000 hungry people in a desolate place, yet Jesus' response was quite simple as we read in Luke 9:13 "But He said to them, "You give them something to eat!" - Complex problems can and do have simple solutions!.

Our greatest challenge of staying close to God has a very simple answer which can be found in Thessalonians 5: 17 "Pray without ceasing." This simple instruction will forever keep us close to God. We should do this as individuals, as families, and as an organisation. If we are constantly in an attitude of prayer we will always find ourselves close to God, and the closer we are to God the more likely we are to hear (and follow) his guidance and instruction.

Conversely, if we allow our conversation with God to diminish, the consequence will be that we drift away from the close companionship that we need to ensure we are listening to His voice. A significant part of hearing God is being constantly in His word. Daily study and contemplation of the Bible is a significant weapon when the enemy of God comes to attack us. When Jesus was tempted by Satan, his response on every occasion was to quote the word of God.

As a leader in this organisation I'm committed to ensuring that the most significant aspect of our ministry will always be the time we spend together before God, both in His word, and in prayer. For this reason we will be joining together on September 9th in a national day of prayer for MMM. I've asked my local church to pray for the work of MMM in their morning service on that day, I encourage you to do the same.

Prayer changes things!

Terrence Baxter.
