You are God's Love in Action

My husband is pretty amazing! He just knows stuff that I haven't got a clue about! He does the math, draws up plans, works out the building materials required, then gets his hands busy building. He's a man of many talents and because of this he's popular wherever we go. Me on the other hand, my talents are a bit more hidden. I'm the kind of person who gets lost on a simple walk, even when using the GPS!

So, why am I confessing all of this to you?

Even though my husband's giftings are obvious and mine, not quite so, we operate best when we work as a team. There is no point being envious of his giftings. We don't have to compete with each other to prove who brings most to the relationship. We are made differently for a reason. God created us to do good works for the benefit of each other and to bring glory to God.

Ephesians 2: v 10 says "For we are God's workmanship, created in Christ Jesus to do good works, which God prepared in advance for us to do." (NIV)

I Peter 4: v 10 & 11 says "Each of you should use whatever gift you have received to serve others, as faithful stewards of God's grace in its various forms. If anyone speaks, they should do so as one who speaks the very words of God. If anyone serves, they should do so with the strength God provides, so that in all things God may be praised through Jesus Christ." (NIV).

You have something to offer. God knows your strengths and how you can best use them to serve Him, to show His love. Our good works are God's love in action. He's created you especially for that reason.

I'm praying you will allow God to use you to bless Him and others.
